Introducing Allison Shapira

Allison Shapira is a former opera singer turned entrepreneur. She is the founder and CEO of Global Public Speaking, a Woman-Owned Business that helps people speak with confidence and authenticity in their meetings, pitches, and presentations.

For the past 15 years, Allison has worked with global brands as a highly-rated keynote speaker and expert. She teaches public speaking at the Harvard Kennedy School, and she travels around the world with the nonprofit Vital Voices, helping women leaders grow their business, run for office, or launch a nonprofit.

She is the author of the bestselling book Speak with Impact: How to Command the Room and Influence Others, which was published by HarperCollins Leadership. She was also a finalist for Woman Business Owner of the Year by the San Diego Chapter of NAWBO, the National Association of Women Business Owners.

Today, she will share strategies that we can use to sharpen our skills and speak with impact every single day. Please help me welcome Allison Shapira!
